Standing together to fight closure threats

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutonsunday.co.uk

VITAL services facing the chop after a council proposed to cut their funding have issued a rallying cry for the people of Luton to help save them.

Shopmobility, based in The Mall which provides mobility scooters for those in need free of charge, has raised doubts about its future after it was announced London Luton Airport Limited (LLAL) was slashing its community funding.

Jayn Harris, co-ordinator of the service, said: "We were told at the end of last year that it could be a possibility that we could lose our funding but I only found out for certain when I checked on the LLAL website and saw we were no longer included."

"We're going to have to start charging for our service now and as we approach our 25th anniversary our main aim is making sure we're still open for business then."

In response, staff and users of Shopmobility are staging a protest outside the town hall at 10.30am on Tuesday.

Five community centres; Bushmead, Limbury, Raynham Way, Park Town and Marsh Farm's Futures House are earmarked for closure after it was announced on Monday £1 million of cuts would be made to Luton Culture's budget.

Dell Farm Outdoor Centre also faces the axe due to a £500,000 cut to Active Luton's funding.

Kathryn Knights, 34, of Farmbrook in Bushmead, Luton, has urged people from all areas affected to come together.

She said: "They're vital community assets, especially in Bushmead where there is no other similar facility. We were told we could use the church next door for some activities, but they've said they're unable to do so."

She and some friends have organised a meeting at 7pm on Thursday at Bushmead Community Centre, against the possible closures. She added: "I want people from across Luton who are affected to come together and stand against the closures."

The five centres are set to be handed back to the control of Luton Borough Council on July 31, with a six month notice period being given on January 31.

Luton on Sunday asked Luton Borough Council why the budget for 2016/17, decided on Monday, February 22, did not take these closures into consideration, despite the three week overlap between the notice and the budget.

LBC responded by saying: "The budget was created on the grounds that there would be an increased dividend and reduced community fund from LLAL in order to protect vital statutory services and support for the most vulnerable in Luton."

TAKING A STAND: Shopmobility staff Bob Dunlop, Tina Dye and Carole Taylor will be taking to the streets to protest against the cuts which will hit the service

£1m bill for ambulance staff crashes in three years

MORE than a million pounds has been paid out in compensation to people involved in collisions with ambulance vehicles in the last three years, Luton on Sunday can reveal.

The East of England Ambulance Service Trust (EAST) said it had taken disciplinary action against staff in a 'handful of cases' after 21 vehicles were written off and 550 compensation claims were received in that time period.

The news follows a Freedom of Information (FoI) request submitted by LoS to EAST. A spokeswoman for the service said paramedics involved in accidents are given extra driver training, 'among other actions'. Crews already undertake nationally approved training before getting behind the wheel and are reassessed every five years.

The spokeswoman added: "Understandably, our crews drive under very difficult circumstances and the number of driving incidents we see is relatively small when considering the 950,000 emergency 999 calls we take and 460,000 non-emergency patient journeys we handle every year."

The same requests sent to other organisations in Bedfordshire revealed that two police officers involved in accidents were fined and given penalty points as a result of poor driving.

The force paid out £377,391 after receiving 72 compensation claims and had 12 cars worth a total of £105,652 written off.

PUT IT OUT FOR GOOD

STOP SMOKING WITH LIVE WELL LUTON! It's never too late to quit smoking!

Have you tried quitting smoking unsuccessfully in the past and think you can't live without a cigarette or have you been smoking for so long you think there's no point in even trying?

If the answer to any of these questions is 'Yes' then a fresh approach is at hand. Live Well Luton offers FREE stop smoking support which has been proven to be 4 x more effective at helping you quit than if you were to go it alone.

Remember, many smokers stopped smoking after a few attempts to quit. Due to the nicotine in cigarettes being so addictive it usually takes a smoker 5-8 attempts. We can help you with this!

Last year alone we helped over 700 smokers to quit smoking...this year it could be you!

Live Well Luton is the town's free healthy lifestyle service and we can help you to stop smoking for good.

We hold one-to-one and group stop smoking sessions throughout the week across the town. With our help you are up to four times more likely to stop.

If you have other concerns around stopping such as weight gain, our Community Health Coaches can help with these too. We run free weight management and physical activity courses to support you in making your healthy changes.

Professionals say, even after years of smoking it is worth quitting as your body instantly starts to repair the damage done:

- After 20 minutes your blood pressure and pulse go back to normal.
- After 24 hours Carbon monoxide will be eliminated from your body.
- After 48 hours you will notice how your senses of taste and smell have improved.
- After 3 days your breathing is easier. You have more energy.
- In 3-9 months your lung capacity can improve by 10 %. You can say goodbye to coughing and shortness of breath.
- After 5 years you now have about the same chance of having a stroke as a non-smoker
- After 10 years the chance of getting lung cancer is half of that of a smoker. Your chance of having a heart attack is the same as someone who has never smoked.

Over one in five adults in Luton smoke with over 85% of those already having a long term health problem.

We offer a free 12 week support programme with access to a range of medications.

For your best chance of stopping for good, take these THREE steps:

- 1: GET HELP.
Do not try and go it alone. Live Well Luton has trained advisors who can help you every step of the way.
- 2: PLAN YOUR QUIT.
Decide on a stop date and stick to it.
- 3: NOT A PUFF.
Cutting down may feel like a good idea but can make stopping altogether harder. Even low level smoking has risks, so aim for zero.

Editor's Letter

It's time to re-think why mum matters

THIS time last year I didn't know if I was going to be buying a Mother's Day card again. My beautiful, lovely mum - the strongest woman I know - had been diagnosed with cancer.

What you do with yourself on Mother's Day when you don't have little surprises to plot or a mum to hug? She's well on her way to recovery now but I'm still re-considering exactly what we're celebrating on the first Sunday of every March.

The almost-holy status we give to self-denying mothers comes with a flip side. Just as Father's Day is a car-boot sale compared to the carnival fanfare of Mother's Day, mum-bashing is a sinister sport that we just don't play with dads.

It is time that we stopped nit-picking the differences between bad mums, do-it-all wonder mums and comparing the unsung heroes of our society with self-absorbed career women. Mother's Day is about showing your gratitude for making you the person you are today.

Brain tumour cop won't be stopped from raising cash

editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A SERVING police officer in Bedfordshire is determined to run another marathon this year - despite learning that an aggressive and incurable tumour he'd previously had removed from his brain has returned.

Dad-of-two Steve Holbrook, 36, who is currently based in Luton, first discovered he had a brain tumour after completing the Milton Keynes half marathon in March last year. On April 10 last year, Steve, a serving officer with Bedfordshire Police for 15 years covering areas such as Biggleswade, had surgery to remove the tumour and recovered well.

However in January this year he was told the tumour was growing once more. It was heart breaking news after Steve, who has two kids, Emma, 6, and Mason, 3, had worked so hard to get himself healthy by losing five stone and quitting smoking ten years ago.

He said: "I was terrified of death and found myself in a very dark place, imagining that I had just months to live and wouldn't be here to see my kids grow up."

Now Steve hopes to take part in this year's Milton Keynes half marathon to raise much-needed funds for Brain Tumour Research during March which is brain tumour awareness month. For more information about the charity visit: braintumourresearch.org.

Cops swerve bid to remove bikes

FEARS that motorcycles used to tackle anti-social behaviour would be removed have been quashed by the police.

Earlier this week it was announced bikes used by Bedfordshire, Cambridgeshire and Hertfordshire Joint Protective Services (BCHJSP) could be redeployed elsewhere.

Nuisance bikers have been terrorising locals across the county for several months.

Chief superintendent Simon Hawkins from BCHJSP has now confirmed the cops' bikes are safe: "There are no plans to stop using off-road bikes in Bedfordshire, in fact three bikes will be dedicated for use solely within the county."

"The use of off-road bikes by the Bedfordshire, Cambridgeshire and Hertfordshire Roads Policing Unit is under review, however it has been agreed that the motorcycles will continue to be used to support operations in Bedfordshire."

The bikes have been used to try to deter riders who have plagued people in Luton, Dunstable and Houghton Regis in particular.

Officers launched a dedicated email address for reports of bikers after residents said the force was not doing enough to tackle the problem.

NUISANCE: A biker was spotted riding his motorcycle across Foxdell Recreation Ground by a eagle-eyed photographer last Sunday afternoon

Passengers' call to get railways back on track

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A TRAIN operator has apologised to customers after cancellations left passengers stranded in the cold.

Last Sunday, Govia Thameslink scrapped some late services between St Pancras and Bedford because of a "temporary shortage of drivers".

This meant passengers faced a long wait for a replacement coach or a later train.

In recent months the operator, which took over from First Capital Connect, has been under pressure to train more drivers and plug the gaps. Govia spokesman Roger Perkins said 38 new drivers had joined in the last year, with 106 still under tuition.

But passengers are calling for drastic action to get train services back on track.

Amptill man Malcolm Tattersall had been travelling home from London at 11.15pm on Sunday, dressed as a colonel in the US Air Force after attending a special cinema screening.

He said he and around 100 other passengers were left stranded until a small 33-seater coach arrived 45 minutes later. He was unable to get on and was left to wait until 1.20am for the next available train.

He said: "It is time this bunch of clowns were stripped of their franchise."

"The dunderheads in the control room and the twerps who draw up the driver's work rotas make the most bizarre decisions."

"Passengers are forever being told trains have been cancelled because of 'mechanical failure' or 'a member of the crew not available'."

"Those trains that aren't cancelled, are invariably late, particularly at night, and then when they do finally arrive passengers are frequently informed that they will be 'running fast' in a bid to make up lost time and so will not be stopping at your station."

Mr Perkins said: "We would like to apologise sincerely to passengers who had a difficult journey."

"Since we took over the franchise we have been recruiting and training new drivers as fast as possible but it takes over a year to train each driver and despite tripling the number of courses we run, they cannot all be trained in one go."

Man dies after blaze breaks out in his flat

A MAN who died in a fire after his flat caught fire in Kensworth this week has been named as 63-year-old Adrian Gall.

An inquest into his death has been opened and adjourned by a coroner to a later date which is yet to be confirmed.

Bedfordshire Fire and Rescue Service received a call about a fire in a block of flats in Ridgeway, Kensworth, at 7.59am on Monday.

Two fire engines from Dunstable Community Fire Station were sent to the scene and when they arrived ten minutes later they called for support from their nearby colleagues in Markyate, Hertfordshire.

Firefighters fought the blaze in the flat wearing breathing apparatus to protect themselves from smoke and fumes and using a fire hose and covering jet. The fire was extinguished by 8.45am but the service continues to investigate the cause.

Training needed to reduce crash bills

BY CARL MUNGAZI

LUTON Borough council has spent more than £58,000 in compensation payments to people involved in collisions with vehicles driven by its staff.

A Freedom of Information request sent to Luton Borough Council by Luton on Sunday showed that between 2012 and 2015 it received 358 compensation claims and paid £58,550 for injuries suffered such as whiplash and sprains.

Meanwhile Bedford

Borough Council forked out £253,815 and Central Bedfordshire paid £38,545.

Neil Greig, from the Institute of Advanced Motorists, said councils could make 'real savings' by taking driver training seriously.

All councils said they regularly monitored staff driving.

Mr Greig said: "The figures for compensation is a real waste of money and that could be avoided if councils ensure that their drivers get training. Organisations can reduce their bills and driver training costs money but in nearly every case we have come across it saves money."

Luton council was unable to say if disciplinary action had been taken against any workers involved in a collision.

Central Bedfordshire was also unable to provide the information but Bedford said it had dismissed one worker.

A Luton spokesman said: "We continually monitor the quality of our officers' driving and put any necessary measures in place to support staff in improving their driving skills. While we are not complacent, we note that the sums we have had to award in compensation are favourable compared to other public sector organisations."

House crash family still cannot use front room

THE owner of a house seriously damaged after a car ploughed into the lounge has said his family is still unable to use the front room.

Mohammed Abdul

Bashir had been out with two of his daughters last Wednesday when a car smashed into the front of his property in Biscot Road.

The driver narrowly missed his other daughter but managed to damage his neighbour's wall as well as a car parked outside the house.

He said: "The police are still looking into it and the insurance are working on the quotation. We are still not using the front and it is locked.

"It will take time and we don't know how long it will take to fix that or my daughter's car."

Shane Putney with Mrs Smith

This is the second time Mr. & Mrs. Smith of Kingsley Road, Luton have chosen Kingsbourne Windows.

Mrs Smith explains "we had excellent windows and doors fitted over 20 years ago by Kingsbourne Windows. Now with top quality 'A' rated products and a high selection of composite doors we've used them again to install a lovely new porch. IF YOU suffer from low back pain and sciatica, you are one of over 20 million adults in the UK with this often crippling spinal condition.

Shooting, stabbing and burning pains from the low back, sometimes with additional pain through the buttocks and down the legs are all symptoms of a pinched nerve often called “sciatica”.

In severe cases, it can lead to muscle wasting, numbness and constant tingling down to the tip of the toes. Left untreated, the intense pain can rapidly wear you down and drain the joy out of life.

That is, until now...

Recent advances in the treatment of sciatica and lower back pain have led to the development and huge success of Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care.

The excellent results of this treatment have been published in major medical journals. With success rates as high as 90% some back surgeons recommending their patients try this treatment first before having back surgery.

In Bedfordshire, you can try Non-Surgical Re-constructive Spinal Care at the Atlas Wellness Centre – the office of low back pain and sciatica relief expert Peter Olsson.

Peter and his team of fully trained spinal care specialists have helped over 4,026 patients find relief from their agonising back pain and sciatica.

Special LUTON ON SUNDAY Reader Offer

Breakthrough relief for back pain and sciatica

According to Peter, “We use a combination of ultra-advanced technology, not found elsewhere in Bedfordshire, for precisely diagnosing the cause of your low back pain and sciatica; and a unique programme for reconstructing the damaged area causing the pain; this means superior long-term results for most people.”

Because the treatment is non-surgical, safe and easy, most patients report an almost immediate relief from their pain.

Patient Jeff P. from Cambridge says, “My back pain was unbearable but the worst thing was the searing burning pain I felt in my buttock and leg.

I couldn’t work or do anything useful and the drugs my GP prescribed hardly did anything.

My wife insisted I respond to one of these ads, I thought it would be a total waste of time, but I’m so glad she kept on at me.

Thank god I called your number, I’m 95% better in just a couple of weeks.”

Big firms support staying in the EU

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

CAR maker Vauxhall has announced its support for staying in the European Union.

The Kimpton Road-based manufacturer said if the UK voted in the referendum to leave it would be 'undesirable' for its business and the wider motor industry.

The firm employs more than a thousand workers in Luton and in 2014 announced that the new generation Vauxhall Vivaro van would be built in the town.

Vauxhall's announcement means it follows low-cost carrier easyJet, another big Luton-based business, in throwing its weight behind the campaign to ensure the UK remains a part of the EU.

The airline said having a single aviation area across the continent had led to lower fares and access to more destinations.

In a statement, a spokeswoman for Vauxhall said:

"The importance of the UK market for Vauxhall, Opel Group and GM becomes clear by the numbers: it is the fourth largest global market for GM and the biggest in Europe.

"Vauxhall is part of a fully integrated European company, benefitting from the free movement of goods and people within the world's largest trading bloc, the EU.

"For the UK not to be part of the EU would be undesirable for our business and the sector as a whole."

POLICE drones could be deployed above Bedfordshire within weeks, Police and Crime Commissioner Olly Martins has said.

Bedfordshire Police has been trialing the devices in recent weeks and Mr Martins said he believed they could be 'an extremely vital and cost effective tool'.

Mr Martins said he would be consulting residents and gathering their views on the technology.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Far right group back in town despite ban

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

BRITAIN First was back in Luton last weekend, carrying a message from its leaders who have been banned from the town.

Around 30 Britain First activists came to the town centre on Saturday, with Paul Golding and Jayda Fransen directing the protest over Skype and phone calls from London.

The pair made their presence felt in the town, while not breaking the terms of their ban.

Mr Golding and Ms Fransen were handed the ban as part of their bail conditions after they were arrested on Monday in connection with a protest in the town in January, the footage of which went viral online.

Activists 'dominated the town centre, despite receiving threats and warnings from the local rotten police' – according to the group's official website.

Members of Britain First were challenged by Lutonians as to why they were back in the town. Bedfordshire Police later told them to leave Luton, which Mr Golding said confirms the town is a 'no-go zone for anyone who goes there not on the Muslim's terms.'

DEMONSTRATING: Britain First activists in Luton

We attempted to contact Britain First for a comment about the protest but it did not respond.

Policeman sex trial drawing to a close

THE prosecution and defence lawyers have been making closing speeches in the case of policeman said to have 'trawled' Facebook for teenage girls to have sex.

Mohammad Arshad, 35, of Ferndale Road, Luton, is said to have groomed numerous underage girls over the Internet, cruised around Luton with them in his black Mercedes and persuaded them to have sexual activity with him.

Mr Arshad denies 22 charges relating to 13 alleged victims who were aged between 13 and 16 at the time. The charges cover a period between October 2012 until December 2014.

He told the jury he had no interest in underage girls. He said he believed one teenager, who he gave £50 to after sex, was aged 18.

Park peril

THIS week's Dozy Parker comes from Luton resident Raymond who spotted this Mercedes on the pavement corner of Truro Gardens and Riddy Lane. ## BLOGGER OF THE WEEK: Nick Edwards, NSPCC Luton

Helping kids in need

Nick and his colleagues at the Luton branch of the NSPCC work tirelessly to help children and young people who have suffered from sexual abuse through services like Protect and Respect.

IT's been two years since NSPCC opened its centre in Luton - since then we've had over 200 referrals for children and young people who have experienced sexual abuse.

Every child deserves to feel safe, protected and loved but the grotesque nature of child abuse undermines that - this must stop.

Nationally, 1 in 20 children in the UK have been sexually abused but a high number of these cases go unreported, undetected, unprosecuted and untreated.

Sexual abuse can have many varied impacts on children and young people. The stress suffered by an abused child can have a significant impact on the child's health and development. It can impact on behaviour and relationships, including risky or harmful sexual behaviour, delinquency, crime and poor parenting. In the longer term, the consequences can limit future opportunities and lead to further problems later in life.

One of the services which the Luton centre in Adelaide Street provides is called Letting the Future In which helps children who have been sexually abused.

Many children and young people who use this service have told us they feel confused and upset about what has happened to them. They have said that having the chance to express their feelings really helps.

We see boys and girls aged four to 17 in our special play therapy rooms. They do things like messy play, writing, storytelling and art to help express feelings that they can't put into words.

Play is a natural way for children to express themselves. They can safely work through past experiences and come to understand and move on from what has happened.

We start by meeting for three or four weekly sessions to get an understanding of the child's needs. Over time they will get to know us and begin to open up about their feelings. It can take up to a year before they are ready to move on.

We also talk to their parents or carers to help the whole family. Parents and carers of children who have been sexually abused can play a really important role in helping their child recover. They are offered some individual support and some joint sessions with the child.

Another vital service we run is called Protect and Respect which supports children and young people at risk of being sexually exploited. In Luton we have had 100 referrals for Protect and Respect. It's imperative we stay on top of the different ways young people can be lured into sexual exploitation.

We see changes in the way children are sexually exploited linked to changes in society, and how technology is becoming increasingly important in young people's lives. For example, texting, email and the internet provides an easy and often hidden way for abusers to build and develop relationships with young people.

If we feel that Protect and Respect isn't suitable for a young person, we will always help them to find services that can support them.

For help and support children can contact ChildLine 24 hours a day, 365 days a year on 0800 1111 or by visiting www.childline.org.uk.

Your Luton Letters on sunday

Quick and easy

I DON'T care if shops open 24/7. I've only got so much money to spend. High Street shopping is OK if you want to stretch your legs, or get some fresh air.

But these days shops never seem to stock what I am looking for. Petrol and parking charges are not cheap.

I shop on Amazon. You can buy anything and it only takes two or three days to your door. They don't keep asking if you want a loyalty card or a bag.

John Tucker

Stop your moaning!

WHY do John Tucker and AC Clement grumble about the increase in council tax?

Surely they must know that most of our council's income is received from central government, merely being topped up by what we pay.

I'm certain they also realise that government funding for our town has been cruelly cut by half over the past three years and is likely to be slashed even further.

Therefore, although our council has reduced spending as much as possible while still maintaining the services they have to provide by law, it has still been necessary to ask us to pay a little bit more.

Before John and AC continue to moan, they may care to consider that we still have the lowest council tax in Bedfordshire, as the inhabitants of the Dunstable side of Poynters Road are well aware of as they look across with envy at their neighbours in Luton.

Deport terror duo

I THANK your newspaper for breaking the monotony of life for me when, as an 83 year old pensioner, your newspaper slides through my letter box waiting for me to search it looking for promissory information.

But I must comment upon your report about the terror pair Ibrahim Anderson and Shah Jahan Khan who were jailed for five years between them.

Surely it would have been more beneficial financially for British taxpayers to confiscate their passports and send them to Syria where they want to go, because while they are in prison they will still indulge in trying to recruit more ISIS terrorist converts.

But more importantly with their prison sentences completed and they are released they will be even more revengeful, so perhaps the judge should have ordered deportation upon release.

THANKS for the comprehensive coverage of Tony Jules' funeral last week.

He truly was a special person and Luton will remember him for many years to come.

CRASH SCENE: The victim was left seriously injured

Pedestrian hurt
in car collision

A MAN was left seriously injured after he was hit by a car in Biscot Road, Luton, at around 11.10pm on Monday night.

A spokeswoman for Bedfordshire Police said: "Officers attended and a man was taken to hospital with serious injuries but in a stable condition."

"The driver failed to stop and later presented himself at Luton Police Station."

"Enquiries are ongoing."

Owners must act to stop stray cat crisis

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

LUTON has become a 'problem area' for stray cats, animal charities say.

The groups have called on pet owners to get their cats neutered and chipped to stop the problem getting worse.

Cats Protection and RSPCA South Bedfordshire organised an event, held yesterday at Studley Road Vets, Luton, offering discounted spaying and chipping for cats to reduce the growing number of strays. Alison Sutton, branch manager of South Bedfordshire RSPCA said: "Around Studley Road is a particular bad area, along with the town centre."

"We're trying to educate people so that the problem doesn't get any worse."

Carly Turner, from Cats Protection said: "Luton is a particular problem area."

"Getting your cat neutered is extremely important."

"Just one unneutered female cat can be responsible for as many as 20,000 offspring in just five years so neutering will help to drive down the number of unwanted kittens in the future."

"It also has many benefits for a pet cat's health by making them less likely to roam, to spray and to fight, reducing the possibility of contracting life-threatening diseases."

It can cost up to £40 to have a cat microchipped but it also gives owners peace of mind should their pet go missing.

This will also stop the problem of increasing numbers of stray cats in Luton.

Spot the baby

Zoo lights up for baby Nuru

ZOOKEEPERS at Whipsnade Zoo in Dunstable have welcomed a new baby giraffe just in time for Mother's Day. Fourth-time mum Savannah kept the zoo guessing for weeks after her expected due-date and gave birth to a female calf last Wednesday. Keepers have named her Nuru, the Swahili word for light, and said she already measures 5ft 6in and was a 'fluffy, miniature of her 16-foot tall mum'.

Paedo jailed over historic sex crime

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A MARRIED man who preyed on youngsters in Luton was given a 28 year extended prison sentence this week when he appeared at Luton Crown Court.

Ahmed Jaral had been convicted at the end of a trial in January of sex offences involving five victims. On Monday when the 45-year-old appeared via a video link from Bedford Prison where he has been held, the judge said he still had no insight into what he'd done to his victims and he still showed no remorse.

The jury heard Jaral had committed offences of three of his victims, a young girl and two young boys in the 1980s and the 1990s. This week some of his victims, who are now adults, were in court to see him jailed.

Jaral, a married man of Grange Avenue in Luton, had earlier been found guilty by the jury of three offences of buggery, three offences indecent assault, three offences of attempting to commit buggery and four offences of indecent assault on a male person.

His victims had been aged between five and their early teens.

Before passing sentence Judge Michael Kay QC was told that sometimes Jaral had put on porn films in front of the children before sexually abusing them and what he did to the children had left some of them in pain and needing medical attention.

Judge Kay told the defendant the custodial element of the sentence meant he would receive a prison sentence of 20 years and liable to recall for a further eight years.

Right up your street..

West country firm left its mark on town

THIS week Howard Chandler looks at why some of our streets come from the west...

A number of streets in Luton are named after towns and cities in England.

Are they just random or can we see patterns? I noticed that some street names in the Ramridge area are from the west of England. Council meeting minutes told me that Somerset, Walcot, Taunton and Exton Avenues were named in 1937. Taunton is the county town of Somerset and Exton is close by, while Walcot is a suburb of Bath. The minutes also show that the names were suggested by the developer - Provincial Estates Development (Bath) Limited. They bought the land from the Hartop family, who also sold land to the council for Luton Airport at this time.

Four more roads were laid out in 1938 but only a few houses had been started before the war interrupted progress. In November 1941 the council approved the road names Yeovil, Burnham, Clevedon and Wilton suggested by the same developer, but building work did not resume until 1946.

Documenting our

BY STEPHEN PENN
editor@londonmedia.co.uk

'MAN is unquestioningly the greatest enemy of documents.'

These words adorn the studio of Vikki Manners, the conservator at the Bedfordshire Archives and Records Service, who works tirelessly to protect our town's history.

If there are important documents to keep safe or make suitable to handle, she is your woman, and even though her children tell her she has an 'old lady job', she relishes every moment.

"Every Monday I walk in and wonder what will be waiting for me," she said.

"When I worked at the Panacea Museum, all of the items that would come in were from the same Edwardian period, but the exciting thing about working here is you never know what you might stumble across."

Not aiming to 'restore' the items, all of the work done is reversible and done to enable the documents to be handled safely and delay their deterioration.

Vikki said: "So often historical items are left in attics or basements, where they are subject to damp and mould, or just kept in unsuitable packaging that is acidic and wears away the documents. The first thing we do when we receive anything at the archives is check it to ensure that it is cleaned, to protect the things we currently have in the archived, and properly packaged in our special acid free folders."

And when it comes to the hands-on conservation work, Vikki is keen on preserving the integrity of the document instead of simply giving it a facelift, a change from only a few years ago.

She said: "It is interesting to look back at the past and how people used to conserve documents, as the science is always changing."

"Currently we use cellulose based glues made up of rice paste and water for paper documents and gelatine based adhesive for parchments or animal skin, matching up the product to be as unobtrusive to the original as possible."

MK THEATRE
MARCH 14 - 19.

Sam's All That Jazz

'MURDER, greed, corruption, exploitation, adultery and treachery ... all those things we hold near and dear to our hearts'

As first lines of a musical go, that's pretty strong stuff but then this is Chicago in the 1920s, the city that thrived on bootlegging, gambling and gun crime.

The award winning stage show Chicago, which was also an Oscar winning blockbuster hit, is bringing 'All that Jazz' to the Milton Keynes Theatre next week.

The show is packed with stars like John Partridge from Eastenders and Hayley Tamaddon from Coronation Street all putting their unique spin on the iconic roles.

And as an extra treat, taking on the role of Matron Mama Morton is X Factor winner and ex-prison guard Sam Bailey, who caught up with LoS to tell us about her big stage debut.

She said: "It's been a great marketing tool that I was a prison officer, but my career has definitely not been like Matron Mama Morton's."

"There are parallels like the respect from the prisoners that you can get in the role, but I'm not too sure I would have been able to handle it in the 1920s."

And though she is new to the business and the show is only three weeks in, Sam is thrilled at the response from the public.

She said: "This is my first stage role, and I have to do it in an American accent which is easy to come off a bit naff, but I spent my childhood years wanting to be an American so I had a bit of experience with the voice which made it a bit easier."

"But acting as a whole was completely new to me and I know a lot of people expected me to be terrible because I have not had any formal acting training."

"Coming in from a TV talent show and being able to work with all of these incredible skilled actors started off really scary, but I thought of it like being pregnant."

"I signed up for this, it's started, so I just have to go through with it and do the best I can, and to get a great response from audiences has been incredible."

So what can those who have been hiding under a rock expect from this action packed show?

Sam said: "The show is definitely for adults, packed full of incredible music and is based on a true story of crimes of passion, something a lot of people don't know."

"It doesn't come around that often so I would advice people to get their tickets quick as it is a show that has stood the test of time and is definitely worth seeing."

Tickets start from £17.90 and are available by calling 0844 871 7652.

MUSIC

DANNY DRIVER
 LIBRARY THEATRE
 TOMORROW

Play it again, Danny

ONE of the country's top musicians will be making a welcome return to Luton tomorrow night.

Pianist Danny Driver brings the last in a series of four concerts celebrating the late chamber music of Beethoven.

He plays the mighty Hammerklavier sonata, one of the great epics of the solo piano repertoire.

The programme is completed by the Mazurkas of Thomas Adès, Debussy's Images, Book 1 and a Handel keyboard suite featuring the famous Harmonious Blacksmith variations.

The international critical acclaim that Danny Driver's recordings and performances have generated over recent years has cemented his reputation as one of Britain's most respected and versatile pianists.

Recitals feature prominently in Danny Driver's schedule of engagements. He has appeared regularly at Wigmore Hall, most recently in a BBC Radio 3 live broadcast recital, in Germany, Italy, Israel, Sweden, the USA, China, and at many major venues in the UK.

Throughout his professional career, he has earned two Gramophone Award nominations, a National Public Radio Top 10 Award and, most recently, Limelight Magazine's Instrumental Recording of the Year 2014 Award.

This is a rare chance to see Danny tickling the ivories and is something no fan of classical music should miss out on.

Tickets cost £15 for adults. Registered students, the unemployed and disabled are £8, while under-18s in full time education get in for free. Tickets are available by calling 01582 878100.

What's hot this week

HE started off his career over three decades ago, touring Working Men's Clubs in the North of England but since then has shared a stage with Bob Hope and made countless appearances on the Royal Variety Performance. Joe Longthorne is an impersonator with a difference, known to have a repertoire of over 100 of the world's most famous singers. He is at the Grove Theatre on Wednesday and tickets are £22 and can be booked on 01582 602080.

BEST known for 'bribing' Sepp Blatter at the FIFA headquarters last year, Simon Brodwin is taking his Lee Nelson character on tour, with a stop at the Alban Arena on Friday, March 18. One of the top comedians in the country, this is a show not to be missed. Tickets are £20 and available on 01727 844488

80 years on from his death, Marc Robinson is paying tribute to the life and music of Buddy Holly at The Grove Theatre on Friday. One of the pioneers of Rock n Roll, Buddy's short career had a lasting impact on what was to come. An authentic slice of rock 'n' roll nostalgia for all fans. Tickets are £23.50.

Quids in if you sell now

By Fiona Davidson

Now is the time to spring into action as property prices continue to rise in the Luton and Dunstable areas. The latest property price index by real estate experts Rightmove revealed an increase of over 10 per cent in house prices in the East of England over the past year.

The average house price has gone up a whopping 10.7 per cent from £290,000 a year ago to £321,000 today. And, 2.8 per cent of that sharp rise in price was within the last month, between January and February 2016.

Property expert Ed Harrison said this was good news for property owners thinking about selling. The time is right to spring clean their properties and get their homes on the market ready for the busiest time of the year for property searches – Easter weekend.

Ed, director of Dunstable-based estate agency and property specialists Deakin-White are confident demand will outstrip supply and that was another reason for homeowners to act quickly and get their house on the market. "The property market is booming in this part of the world with a 10 per cent rise in prices over the past year and almost three per cent in the past month," he said. "Anyone thinking of selling should act quickly to get their property on the market."

"We are coming to the time of year when people think of moving home. Easter weekend is the busiest period for property searches. People want to move and want to get out and go and view houses. The weather is improving, the sun is shining and families are thinking about new homes and school catchment areas."

So, homeowners looking to sell should follow some top tips to make sure that their property is market ready, Ed continued "Decluttering, redecorating and a thorough spring clean are obvious steps. No-one wants to buy a house full of other people's junk and a fresh lick of paint goes a long way towards making the property look clean and tidy."

"Smells can also turn buyers off so make sure it's pleasant scents only such as coffee, baking bread or lightly scented candles."

Other more practical tips are important too, such as finding quality reliable professionals for the valuation, mortgage advice, someone to manage the viewings, the offers and the acceptance, all the legalities and, most important of all, somewhere else to live.

"Deakin-White is ideally placed to provide friendly, professional advice," Ed added. "A property is almost always the biggest asset that somebody owns so we treat every single sale as personally and professionally as if it were our own."

"At Deakin-White, we never forget that behind every property we sell is a person, a whole family in many cases, each with its own individual circumstances, dreams, goals and life experience. With this in mind we take time to understand our clients and their situation. We are fully involved in all aspects of our business and we like to get to know each and every client and their property, progressing the transaction until the sale is complete."

Deakin-White is at The Incuba, 1 Brewers Hill Road, Dunstable, Bedfordshire, LU6 1AA; tel 01582 343 548, email Sales@Deakin-White.co.uk, visit the website <http://www.deakin-white.co.uk/>, follow on Facebook or Twitter @DeakinSales.

Dining in style at Naked Chef's pad

You might enjoy trying out Jamie Oliver's recipes but how about sliding down the same spiral staircase as the young cheeky chappie in his first TV show?

The Naked Chef saw Oliver rustling something up in the kitchen of this trendy three-bedroom home where he'd dish up the nosh for friends and family.

Oliver, who's now equally famous for campaigning to introduce sugar tax and tackle childhood obesity, admitted wife Jools "didn't exist" in series one. The father-of-four, then 22, said the former model was kept away in the bedroom as TV execs wanted to suggest he was single.

Oliver moved up the property ladder in 2001 – with his new home featuring in the first episode of season three. Now the family are on the move again, after putting their townhouse on the market for £12m. Oliver knocked through two adjoining houses to create a 10-bedroom family home in Primrose Hill, but now the chef, who is thought to be worth £180m, has bought a seven-bedroom property near Hampstead, which is being renovated.

The first pad, in Clerkenwell, is on the market for £2.75m, it's still got the spiral staircase although the kitchen has been refurbished since appearing in the 1999 cookery show.

There's a gym on the ground floor, garage, storage room, built-in study and utility room. The master bedroom is on the top floor, boasting a dressing room and en-suite bathroom.

Another double bedroom has an en-suite shower room, while the agent says a new mezzanine could be used as an extra bedroom or reception.

HOT

In need of baggy trousers

LEGENDARY ska band Madness memorably set their 1982 top ten hit 'Our House' in a Victorian terraced house, where Suggs and co bashed out the tune in the living room.

A few months ago, the house which took the video's starring role went on the market and was snapped up for £565,000 within days – no doubt helped by the owner's listing which was full of musical references, beginning: "Welcome to our 'House of Fun'... It's 'One Step Beyond' the norm for the area."

The house is in a photogenic tree lined cul-de-sac in North West London which has long been in demand with film directors. Stephenson Street features in The Ipcress Files and the Likely Lads and next month appears in Hugh Jackman's new film Eddie The Eagle about the British skier who, in 1988, became the first competitor to represent Great Britain in Olympic ski jumping. Michael Edwards finished last in the 70m and 90m events, but became famous for his heroic failure – he was very long sighted, forcing him to wear glasses that fogged up so badly that he couldn't see during jumps.

Another two-bed terraced house in the street is now for sale at £600,000. Recently decorated with a modern kitchen/diner and large open plan reception room, it overlooks woodland where a community urban orchard and garden is planned for the spring.

Closer to home there's a little oasis in the back garden which was designed by TV presenter and Chelsea Flower Show gold medal winner Joe Swift.

Make transfer to Sven's footy flat

FORMER England boss Sven-Goran Eriksson seems to be on a mission to encourage Premier League players to up sticks and join him in China.

Eriksson, 67, manages big-spending Shanghai SIPG and reckons Man United star Wayne Rooney and Chelsea's John Terry would love it in Asia.

Famous off the pitch for his relationships with Nancy Dell'Olio and Ulrika Jonsson, Eriksson moved to China in 2013 when he took charge of Guangzhou R&F. A year later he became boss at Shanghai and led them to a second-placed finish in the league.

Back in 2001, the Swede became the first foreign manager of the English national team but left after their World Cup exit in 2006. The well-travelled manager has worked all over the world and moved to Notts County in 2009 for a year, living in this three-bedroom apartment.

Near Nottingham Racecourse and Colwick Country Park, this ground-floor pad on the River Crescent Development has river views and is open plan with French doors from the living area onto a terrace. The kitchen is just off the living area and connected by a breakfast bar. Its en-suite master bedroom boasts built-in wardrobes, while two more double bedrooms have river views.

Residents can use a gym, leisure and spa facilities, indoor heated swimming pool and business suite. There's also a private parking space with the flat, which could be yours for £525,000.

Audi ahead in space race

Space may be the final frontier, but for customers exploring the all-new, and newly available, Audi A4 Avant it is likely to be one of the first and foremost considerations. Fortunately the five-door version of What Car? Magazine's 2016 Car of the Year proves to be a star in this respect, offering the most expansive seats-up luggage capacity in the premium compact executive sector to complement the quality, technological ingenuity and optimal efficiency for which the A4 is already renowned.

The even more versatile A4 can now be ordered at prices ranging from £27,300 OTR to £40,350 OTR, and retention of these original values is likely to be another important consideration for prospective purchasers. Here, too, the A4 Avant doesn't disappoint, with leading trade guide CAP Monitor predicting that the majority of versions will achieve residual values that are either strongest in the premium compact estate class or unbeaten in the class.

As an example the A4 Avant 2.0 TDI ultra Sport 190PS – the expected best-seller in the range – is predicted to retain 40 per cent of its value after three years or 60,000 miles, ahead of its key premium sector rivals.

The all-new A4 Avant intelligently integrates a class-leading 505 litres of luggage capacity – extending to 1,510 litres with the seats folded – into a capacious interior that now affords even more head and shoulder room for front seat occupants and offers an increase in overall rear leg room compared to its predecessor.

Among the technological highlights are the optional Audi virtual cockpit with its fully digital, absolutely flicker-free display, and optional Matrix LED headlamps capable of establishing and tracking multiple road users and illuminating the appropriate corridors of lights either side of them to maintain maximum visibility without dazzling other drivers.

Highlights of the options list also include a 19-speaker, 755-watt Bang & Olufsen audio system with 3D sound, Audi Entertainment mobile incorporating two detachable touch-screen tablet computers built into the rear seats, and the Audi phone box bringing two separate Bluetooth connections and wireless smartphone charging.

These can be added to the three 'core' specification levels SE, Sport and S line, each of which offers either Xenon or LED headlamps with LED daytime running lights, along with features including three-zone climate control, cruise control, rear parking sensors and the Audi smartphone interface, which supports Apple CarPlay and Android Auto platforms and displays smartphone contact and information such as navigation mapping on the A4's seven-inch colour MMI screen.

The Avant engine line-up will initially include a wide choice of 2.0 litre and 3.0-litre TDI engines with outputs starting from 150PS and rising to 272PS. The refined and responsive 1.4-litre TFSI petrol engine at the entry point to the A4 Saloon range will also become available to Avant customers slightly behind the first phase in April 2016.

Mini Clubman

Take a look inside...

The Clubman was launched in 2007 as the first truly practical MINI but came with one key drawback: you couldn't have two rear passenger doors. This second generation model not only corrects that oversight but is also smarter, better equipped, higher-tech and more efficient. But it joins a range that, in the Hatch 5-Door and Countryman models, already boasts similar design of this type. Can it stand out?

MINIs have always been known for handling excellence and this MK2 model Clubman should be no exception. Based on the same 'UKL' platform as the BMW 2-Series Active Tourer and measuring the same distance between the wheels, it offers sophisticated suspension with what is promised to be the highest level of ride refinement ever for a MINI.

There's a familiar range of engines under the bonnet. The usual three cylinder 1.5 litre 136PS petrol unit features in the standard Cooper alongside a 2.0 litre 192PS four cylinder petrol engine for the pokier Cooper S. The Cooper D diesel gets a 2.0-litre unit with 150PS and all engines are turbocharged and offer 0-62mph in less than 10 seconds. The quickest option will be the Cooper S 0-62mph possible in as little as 7.1 seconds.

Standard with all three engines is a six-speed manual gearbox - with automatic transmission an option on all. The smallest three cylinder motor can be optioned with a 'Steptronic' auto that offers six ratios, while the 2.0 litre units both get the option of an eight-speed auto 'box that includes steering wheel-mounted paddles.

There's no disputing that from the outside, the Clubman still looks like a MINI, even though it's actually longer than the Countryman Crossover model. If anything, the Clubman's increased length and width helps stretch this intriguing take on MINI design language, making it to some eyes even more attractive than the basic Hatch versions. The key change that owners of the previous generation models will notice is the availability at last of two rear passenger doors, both fitted with frameless windows for a coupe (or old school Subaru) feel.

The designers have done their damndest to make this second generation Clubman a distinct and desirable model in its own right. The result is characterful but distinctly MINI - just as potential buyers will want.

Citroen Relay Ready To Run Range Extended

Citroen's 'Relay Ready to Run' range of ready-bodied vehicles is being expanded and an all-new Euro 6 engine line-up is being introduced at the Commercial Vehicle Show (full details of these new engines will be available nearer the time of the CV Show). Now joining the established range of high-specification, competitively priced tippers, dropsides and Luton vans in the Relay Ready to Run range are a new 'Plant & Go,' small plant carrier, a new car transporter and two new Crew Vans. One of the major advantages of the 3.5 tonne gvw KFS Special Vehicles Plant & Go conversion, for many fleets, is that it eliminates the need for a trailer, which is often seen as a costly capital investment.

Renault Scenic – Europe's First Compact MPV

Renault's game-changing Scenic is celebrating 20 years of providing millions of families with innovative, forward-thinking transport. It continues to be the benchmark in the competitive compact MPV sector that it created back in 1996. Since its introduction, the Scenic has become synonymous with family motoring at its very best, selling over five million examples that have engaged all occupants in a travel experience built on freedom and discovery to be enjoyed together. Set to be unveiled on 1st March 2016 at the Geneva Motor Show, the fourth-generation Renault Scenic will continue the legacy of its predecessors, taking inspiration from the dynamic R-Space concept car unveiled in 2011.

VOLKSWAGEN CADDY – WITH NATURAL GAS AND DSG

The new Caddy TGI BlueMotion from Volkswagen Commercial Vehicles is the first vehicle in its segment to be equipped with a dual-clutch gearbox. The Hanover-based manufacturer will present this new combination of an alternative natural-gas drive system and six-speed DSG as a world premiere at the 2016 Geneva International Motor Show. The Caddy TGI BlueMotion, a family/city delivery van that runs on either CNG or bio-natural gas, is, besides its manual gearbox, now available for the first time with the DSG dual-clutch gearbox, which makes it unique in its segment. Both the panel van and passenger car variant of the Caddy can also be ordered with a short wheelbase or in the Caddy Maxi version.

Cyclists bring back memories

BRITISH sports fans would give a lot to regain the feeling they had during the 2012 Olympics when our athletes produced a quantity of success unprecedented in living memory.

Who knows? It could be a sensation we all feel again in five months' time when this year's Games get under way in Rio de Janeiro should Team GB threaten to match their achievements in London.

But it was at one of the venues used during that incredible summer of four years ago that has given us a reminder of how exhilarating it was.

The Track Cycling World Championship has been taking place this week at the Lee Valley Velo Park; the scene of some of 2012's most memorable moments.

It was a place that became synonymous with the deafening noise that accompanied the British cycling team sweeping up seven out of the ten gold medals available.

Wrighton SPORT

matt.wright@
lsnmedia.co.uk

mattywright86

Established stars like Sir Chris Hoy and Stotfold's own Victoria Pendleton shone while new heroes emerged in the shape of Laura Trott and Jason Kenny.

The first two names mentioned have since retired, although Pendleton is forging a new career for herself in horse racing and memorably won her first race as a jockey this week.

With performance director Sir Dave Brailsford moving on as well, the team has had to undergo a regeneration in recent years and there have been a few teething troubles.

After such a prolonged spell of success it was a shock to see no British gold-medallists at last year's World Championship and this edition started on a flat note with both sprint teams and the women's pursuit team under-performing.

Thankfully, Thursday night lit the fuse as Trott emerged victorious in the women's scratch race and was heralded by a familiar wall of noise.

But the highlight of the night's action was the enthralling final of the men's team pursuit between Great Britain and Australia.

The atmosphere when the British quartet of Sir Bradley Wiggins, Jon Dibben, Owain Doull and Ed Clancy threatened to win an unlikely gold medal in the closing stages was simply incredible.

They fell short on the final lap, but if this is what a team still getting used to each other is capable of, imagine what they'll be like after five more months racing together.

CYCLE KINGS: The men's pursuit team raised the roof at the Lee Valley Velo Park in London

This summer can't come quickly enough.

■ Before this week, fans of English football had probably never heard of Charlie Stillitano, the chairman of Relevant Sports, the American company that organises the over-blown pre-season tournament, the International Champions Cup.

But he quickly made plenty of enemies among them with his, frankly, cretinous views on the Champions League, questioning whether the likes of Leicester City have a place in it and raising the spectre of closing it off to so-called elite clubs.

We can dismiss the views as those of someone with no understanding of football for now, but here's hoping people like him never gain any real influence in the game.

Luton's drop is confirmed

AFTER a promising start to their London One North league game at home to Chingford this weekend, Luton let a 16-10 half-time lead slip, eventually losing 23-16, and so have relegation out of the division confirmed as a mathematical certainty.

Rik Hobbs scored Luton's only try of the game, converted it, and added three penalties to give his side the advantage at the turnaround. "We went to sleep at the start of the second half and let them back in," said Luton's manager Dicky Jones. "We had a try disallowed late on, that would have put us back in the lead, and they scored a penalty late on to seal the win. We were hoping to stave off relegation for a few more games, but it's not to be – but it's always going to be an uphill struggle when you lose 22 players at the start of the season, and these weren't fringe players, but it is what it is, we're now looking to next season."

Stockwood Park's promotion push continues following their 41-14 win on the road at St Neots in Midlands Three East (South), the result sees them move nine points clear of third-placed Long Buckby with three games left to play.

Dave Brooks made his debut in the Park back line and bagged a hat-trick in the first quarter of the game to give Stockwood an early advantage that was never #threatened.

Leading 22-14 at the break, Stockwood had already bagged the four-try bonus point but still had work to do to secure the win, Ieuan Beal had got Park off the mark before Brooks' early hat-trick.

After the restart Michael Powell, Alex Harnett and James Hankey all crossed the whitewash, with Steve Pollock adding two more conversions to the one he'd kicked in the first half, to secure the bonus-point win.

In the same division Dunstabians were beaten 29-8 at league-leaders Oundle, a defeat that leaves them 20 points off a play-off place, with four league games remaining.

Blues lose to late penalty strike

FOOTBALL

DUNSTABLE Town's play-off hopes took a blow yesterday evening when a late spot kick saw them fall to a 1-0 loss away to Slough Town in the Evo Stik Southern Premier League.

The match got off to a slow start, with the only real moment of note in the opening exchanges being when the hosts found the back of the net in the 21st minute through Warren Harris, only for the effort to be ruled out for offside.

Dunstable's first real chance of note came in the 40th minute when the Blues hit the post following a goalmouth scramble, which was the closest either side came to breaking the deadlock in the first half.

The game got off to a slow start again after the interval, with neither side having any clear cut chances in front of goal.

Slough came close in the 79th minute when substitute Lee Barney cut in from the right hand side but his low strike was easily saved by Dunstable keeper Jamie Head.

Minutes later the hosts made the crucial breakthrough, with Ed Smith netting from 12 yards after Guy Hollis was felled in the area.

The hosts managed to hold on for the win after a tense game, with few chances for either side.

Barton Rovers were due to play top-of-the-table AFC Rushden and Diamonds in the Evo Stik Southern League Division One Central, but their away tie was called off due to a waterlogged pitch.

MARK Tyler is expected to join Peterborough United after Luton brought in Derby County keeper Jonathan Mitchell on loan until the end of the season.

The Hatters will now discuss terms with Posh but it is a situation which has been rumbling on since transfer deadline day when Tyler – who has made 297 appearances for Town – revealed that the club had refused to let him return to London Road where he played 486 times.

The 38-year-old, whose contract expires in the summer, has a back injury anyway so Mitchell was thrown straight into the team as the Hatters beat Leyton Orient 1-0, which moved the Hatters to within three points of the League Two play-offs.

Speaking after the game, manager Nathan Jones said: "I've known Jonny for a long while and we feel he's one of the best young keepers around, so he was on our radar. The thing is, with Tyles is, it'll probably come out, so I'll be the one to say, he's had a little bit of an approach from Peterborough, in terms of going there and being player-goalkeeping coach.

"I didn't want to stand in his way, so I spoke to him and Barry Fry [Peterborough Director of Football] over the last few weeks and we said that when the right time comes to do it then we'll let him do it.

"Tyles has been a great servant for Peterborough, he's been a great servant for Luton.

"He's a fantastic professional so we felt it was only right that we didn't stand in his way, but in order to do that we had to get the right one in."

Mitchell, 21, didn't disappoint with a commanding performance on his fantastic Football League debut, even providing the ball which found its way to Jack Marriott for the winner.

"When we bring a goalkeeper of his calibre in, you start them because we believe he's improved our 11. Without getting carried away, the kid was outstanding," Jones said.

"We enquired about Jonny. Darren Wassall [Derby manager] has been fantastic. He believes in what we do here. I know him, he knows how I work and we had similar philosophies to Derby, when I was at Brighton.

Marriott strikes only goal at Leyton Orient to secure fourth straight win for Luton

Hatters daring to dream again

FOOTBALL

LEYTON ORIENT 0
LUTON TOWN 1

THIS was the point Luton Town started to believe.

"Swing low," was the song – in honour of Jack Marriott's sublime 26th minute winner – but aim high is the message after his fourth goal in five games to put Town three points away from the League Two play-offs.

Four victories on the bounce have transformed Luton's fortunes and now all bets are on for an end of season run-in which has moved from mid-term Dullsville to a land of hope. And glory? We'll wait and see but they're very much back in the hunt.

At the full time whistle, boss Nathan Jones led his warriors back across the Brisbane Road pitch to the 1,402 delirious, travelling supporters, beating his chest, pumping his fists and bellowing out a roar which reverberated around east London and, quite possibly, all throughout League Two. "Nathan Jones' barmy army" was the chant in response because now those fans are beginning to sense that there's something is happening.

That was because against a Leyton Orient side, who began the day in the last play-off spot, six points ahead of the Hatters, this result felt hugely significant. Not least because they were forced to defend for the majority of the second half.

Scott Cuthbert, back on his old stomping ground, was immense; typified by a thou-shalt-not-pass diving header to deny Armand Gnanduillet 15 minutes from time.

The grit and the determination was not exclusive to the Scot though and Luton's laundry lady, Vera, will have a stubborn task on her hands to lift to dirt and grime off Luton's all-white kit after 1,001 glorious sliding tackles and bodies thrown courageously in the firing line.

And all of this meant that there was precious little to do for new loan goalkeeper Jonathan Mitchell, but when he was called upon, the 21-year-old Derby County stopper – signed until the end of the season – was commanding.

That was an encouraging sign as he was thrust straight into the action, having not trained, to take the place of Mark Tyler, who boss Jones confirmed is to leave Luton and return to his hometown club Peterborough United as a player-coach.

Mitchell also played a huge part in the decider with a colossal goal-kick that found its way to Marriott via the head of Craig Mackail-Smith. The finish – a side-foot lob over O's goalie Alex Cisak – was fit to win any football match. So too was the performance, or performances, as it was. There were two sides to them in the capital.

In the first period, Town were a threatening counter-attacking proposition and then, after the break, when placed under huge scrutiny by Orient, they showed resilience and would not buckle.

They deserved everything they got, particularly their half-time lead and goalscorer Marriott is now a man on flames, as the good folks on Twitter would say. The striker is now on level terms with Cameron McGeehan with 12 apiece to top Town's goalscoring charts.

Rarely out of their half in the second period, there was one moment when that changed and Dan Potts – in for his first start in five months – caressed a curler just the wrong side of the upright, before hobbling off with well-earned cramp.

Yet, in the face of a constant

Orient barrage, the only time Town had to ride their luck was when the hosts' player-manager Kevin Nolan headed wide from close range.

As the O's got desperate, Gnanduillet went to ground when McGeehan flailed a leg at him in the penalty box. Referee Charles Breakspear was unmoved.

Luton, however, are only shooting in one direction and that's up.
